

U.S. Embassy Vienna

The U.S. Embassy in Vienna cordially invites you to join a discussion on Quantum Energy Devices, Nanocrystals, and the Future of Material Science

Featuring guest speakers:

- 1) Michael Haag (Chief Technical Officer, Universal Nanotech, USA): "Quantum Energy Devices"
- 2) Eero Kontturi (Aalto Uni, Helsinki): "Cellulose Nanocrystals: New material opportunities from nature"
- 3) Thomas Rosenau (BOKU, Vienna): "Cellulose - news from an old polymer"
- 4) Alexander Bismarck (University of Vienna): "Batteries included? Structural Energy Storage"
- 5) Robert Gmeiner: "3D-printing with light: Materials and processes"

Amerika Haus

Friday, May 20, 2016

10:00 a.m.

Friedrich-Schmidt-Platz 2, 1010 Vienna

Please register in advance at viennaprograms@state.gov

U.S. Embassy Vienna

AUSTRIA TO AUSTIN
S T U D E N T S T A R T U P E X C H A N G E

Follow us on:

By participating you consent to the publication of images/videos taken during the event.